“ Hello, Ruby-I haven't used a lot of Apple products, but a cnapmoy I worked with many years ago provided nothing but Mac computers, back when Apple was still a young cnapmoy. I never really got used to them, probably for the same reason that I didn't like Windows much I was a DOS guy, and liked getting my hands dirty both Windows and Mac just seemed to be a little too glitzy for my tastes. But nobody can argue the fact that Apple has had a real impact on PC design, not to mention all their other product lines. I think that was largely due to Jobs' involvement in the design process. Thanks for stopping by and commenting. I hope you'll be back.Doc Sheldon recently posted..

“ I had the pleasure of seeing Ms. Peters regularly in my ENT office. She was a true joy. She never complained, always smiled, and was genuinely kind despite the circumstances. I will truly miss her. May God bless you all. I will keep you in my prayers.
