

Barbara Butler Weaver

February 2, 1938 - May 9, 2016

Barbara Butler Weaver, 78, beloved wife, mother, and grandmother, passed away on Monday, May 9, 2016 at South Central Regional Medical Center in Laurel, Mississippi after a brief illness.

She was born to Truman and Annie Jones on February 2, 1938 in Jones County, Mississippi. She attended Calhoun High School as well as Laurel Business College. After she married and raised a family, she began her own business, Tru Craft, which specialized in the manufacture of boat seats, customized boat interiors, and upholstery.

Mrs. Weaver loved her family and enjoyed spending time with them. She also enjoyed sewing and cooking and did both very well. She was an avid Atlanta Braves fan and rarely missed watching a game on television. She was a member of West Laurel Baptist Church where she had been active in Sunday School, choir, and the hostess committee.

She was preceded in death by a son, Tony Raymond "Chuck" Butler; a brother, Carl Jones; sisters Martha Jo Doggett, Doris Kaye Shoemake, and Debra Davis; and parents Truman and Annie Jones.

Mrs. Weaver is survived by her husband, Jack Weaver, of Laurel; a son, Eddie (Karen) Butler, of Perkinston; a daughter, Teresa (Reynolds) Reeves, of Waynesboro and a grandson, Zachary Reeves, of Waynesboro.

Her life will be celebrated with a memorial service to be held Saturday, May 21, 2016 at West Laurel Baptist Church. Visitation with the family will begin at 2 p.m. with a service to follow at 2:30 p.m. Reverend Brandon Powell will officiate.

“ Even though I'm not in the family now, I remember so well Annie & Truman, Man, Martha Jo, Doris Kay, Debbie, and your mother. I felt they were my family, too. Annie and I did many things together like going to the beach, picnics, and zoo with my children when they were small. I thought Barbara as well as the other girls were all so pretty. I'm very sorry for your loss. You have a wonderful family with, I am sure, many great memories. Virginia Jones
