“ On January 17, 2026 we bid farewell to Cirilo Aramis Abreu Valladares with profound sadness, yet with the comforting certainty that his passing is the final act of a legendary love story. Having lost his life partner less than a month ago, his heart simply could not bear the silence of her absence. While his departure leaves a void in our lives, we find peace knowing that their immense love lives on through his daughters, his grandchildren, the entire family and the cherished memories he left behind. May he find eternal rest, and may perpetual light shine upon him forever. Rest in peace, Aramis; you will never be forgotten. 🕊️
