“ Larry and I worked together at Ingalls. Larry was hard worker, kind, always wanting to help, just plain "a good guy". I bought one of Larrys old cars and kept it as my "shipyard car" until Katrina".

God Bless Larry

“ Larry was one of a kind. My late husband, Bill Blake thought so highly of Larry and enjoyed working with him for many years. When I think of Larry I remember his visit every Christmas with his famous biscuits. My children all looked forward to those delicious Christmas morning biscuits. I am so sorry to learn of his passing.

Larry was one of my all time favorites at work. After he retired I would see him out for his walks in Ingalls Avenue and talk to him occasionally. I have missed seeing Larry and talking to him since he and his wife moved from Pascagoula. I am sorry to learn of his passing.
