“ To know her was to Love her.

She came into my life through my family and then she became my very special, cherished, important family member. She embraced me in a way that touched my very core soothing the hardships that life brings as only a person who has lived these things can do. Yet she had the loving, lifting spirit that made our talks so much fun. I already miss our "girl talks" and how special she ALWAYS made me feel. I will miss her saying "I love you and come home whenever you want as your room is ready for you".

I loved her.....

I was oh so fortunate to have her in my life all these years.

I will never forget my first thought upon meeting her was what an Absolutely, Stunningly, Beautiful Woman she was !

“ I’ve known Joyce a very long time since she and my mom have been best friends since 1st grade. She was such a wonderful, caring sweet person inside and out. She had the best personality and would tell me every time I saw her or spoke that she loves me! She went threw so many heartaches but she was such a strong petite lady! The work lady is so fitting for her but fails to show how special she was. God is definitely celebrating now that he has that Angel with him in Heaven!
