“ I have many wonderful memories of Ann Sims.
She was and always will be my Mother.
She imparted the strength I have today and encouraged me to keep my faith in God. Which I do.
She is in a better place now, I believe this wholeheartedly.

“ I have so many special memories with my grandmother, Mamawssippi. My first memory with her is learning to scramble eggs. She was so patient and didn't mind if I made a mess. She would make tiny biscuits for me when I was little because she knew I liked the tiny ones. She told me the story of Peter Rabbit any time we spent the night, so much that I'm pretty sure she had it memorized. As a young kid she taught me how to cross stitch which created in me a lifelong interest in all crafts. We would write letters back and forth for YEARS. Her letters were always full of details and written in her beautiful handwriting. Often she would include small treats such as personal recipes or recipes clipped from a magazine. She would write about the adventures of her cats that she loved so much. If you knew Ann you knew a true Southern Lady. She kept an immaculate home filled with homemade meals and tons of family pictures. She never left home without being “presentable” and was so polite to anyone she met. Most important of all she read her bible daily and prayed for her loved ones daily. She instilled in me how important a true relationship with God is. I will miss her so much, but I find peace in knowing she is with our Lord and savior.
Love you Mamawssippi,
Your granddaughter Kellie
