“ It's the sweetest peace that comes with knowing that her life was lived as a testimony to God's grace and Love. That through His grace she is now rewarded THE PROMISE to which she lived for , as her hope in a world that was not her home. Many a conversations we shared over the years driving and riding with her to church. Her words resurface in memories that are as clear in her voice, reminding me of truth and humbleness in which she lived her life.. "We must be ready when He comes and He's coming and with His help I'm going." A memory that comes to mind is walking in on her cooking mutliple times , to many to count actually. At the old white stove she stood fixing uncle T Tony's lunch. Not even realizing she was cooking , she stood praying in the spirit glorifying God and lifting the names of her loved ones before Him. A warrior in prayer and faithfulness . Always willing to love and listen. She will be remembered sweetly as someone holding others up when she herself was weak. A believer of God's Healing Power in the face of situations that seemed bleak . A Pillar amongst God's children. She is rejoiced for her race is finished. She's Home. I just hope they gave her a big round silver key ring for her new mansion. R.I.P Dear Aunt Marie

“ Ms. Marie was a sweet spirit. She and Tony were fine people, Christians who enjoyed life and loved everybody. I thought the world of them both.
