“ May God bless and comfort his family, especially Bubby and his siblings. I have great memories of fishing at his place in Texas. Not everyone has the ability he had to open his heart and home to others, even a stranger like me. And I might add, I did not stay a stranger for long. He was a fine man with many different skill sets and could do anything. He knew a lot about many different things, but the greatest thing he knew was the salvation of the Lord Jesus. I know he will be missed by his family!
