“ You are and always be my baby brother. Memories of growing up will be mine forever until we will be a family again. You and I spent a lot of happy times together recently and in the past. You are always in my heart and in my prayers. I loved you and miss you but I'm glad you are at peace.

“ Bob, as the Pittsburgh cousins know him as has always held a near and dear place in my heart. Growing up as young children I felt his protection over me. Our special times were at the brashear dances, when no one else asked me to dance he did! LoL He also taught us archery. Bob would walk me home as a young girl and we would share those times as friends. Rest in peace Rob, you deserve that special place in heaven. Deb, your faithfulness is a tribute to your marriage. May God bless you in this life forward.

“ Rob (Bobby to us) and I were first cousins, but we were also friends. We stayed at each other's homes, played with each other's friends and did all the things young boys did. Since Bob moved away right after his tour in the Marines was over, we weren't able to continue that relationship, but the great memories of those early years will last forever. Rest in Peace Rob.
