“ Aunt Faye was the very best and funnest cook to watch. I remember staying in the kitchen with her for hours watching her cook at Grandma and Grandpa Williams house. She was so much fun to watch as she truly loved it. I remember so clearly watching her make Peach Cobbler. She simmered the peaches on the stove all day. We would watch them and stir them. She then took her time and made the most perfect crust or dumplings. She was so patient in putting each piece in one at a time to the boiling peaches. It was the most delicious cobbler I've ever tasted. She would make the best Chicken and Dumplings and homemade Biscuits. I loved being around her and watching her. She was very patient and made everything look so good. She truly was a caring and genuine person. It was so enjoyable just sitting and listening to her talk. I have a lot of her recipes and will enjoy cooking them and sharing memories of her. She was such a joy and pleasure to be around and always made everyone feel comfortable. I am sure our Heavenly Father has her wrapped in his arms. Love and prayers to all of you! Lisa Williams
