“ I treasure the good fortune I had to meet James and Voncile in Detroit years ago as the two lived across the street from my mother-in law. That was during a time of some unrest. I was so joyful that we could discuss then current politics with a bit of zest! And then we exchanged book recommendations as well as newspaper clippings of Voncile (and I) doing our best to correct all that was wrong with our County and City leadership. (:>]. Laurel ought to have taken advantage of Voncile's guidance when they had the opportunity. No doubt they are being overseen from above!
